Rep. Mills of Kensett has served in Congress since 1939, and will seek his 17th term. Second-term Reps. Hammerschmidt of Harrison, and Pryor of Camden are in their fourth year of service. Rep. Alexander of Osceola is concluding his second year in the House.

Mills is Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee; Hammerschmidt serves on the Public Works Committee and the Committee on Veterans' Affairs; Pryor is a member of the Appropriations Committee; Alexander serves on the Committee on Agriculture.

Budget Calls for Deeper Troop Cut

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top Defense officials say deeper cuts in total U.S. troop strength will be necessary because of a predicted budget deficit and an expected move by Congress to slash Pentagon spending.

There are some indications the Joint Chiefs of Staff have sought to use the allied attacks into Cambodia as a lever to persuade Congress to increase military appropriations.

However, top civilian Pentagon authorities say the chiefs are deluding themselves—Congress will order reductions, rather than increases, in President Nixon's $71.8 billion Defense budget for the bookkeeping year starting July 1.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has called this budget "rock bottom, bare bones" but he now knows Congress almost certainly will not agree.

Two events occurred last week which point toward rising money troubles for the Defense Department.

One was the Nixon administration's disclosure that it anticipates a $1.3 billion deficit for the 1971 fiscal year instead of an earlier forecast surplus.

The other was an indication by Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., chairman of the key House Appropriations Committee, that the administration's Defense budget, submitted in February, will be slashed at least $1 billion.

That budget calls for bringing the armed services roll down to about 1.9 million, a cut of more than 252,000 men, and a reduction of 57,000 civilian workers for a new total of about 1.1 million nonmilitary defense workers.

At their peaks for the Vietnam war period last June, there were about 3.5 million men in the military and nearly 1.3 million civilians.

But in light of recent developments, top Defense officials make it plain an even heavier military manpower reduction, and probably a civilian worker cutback, lie ahead.

Authorities also predict additional base closings and reductions on top of the 678 facilities already affected by Pentagon economy moves in the last nine months.

Officials say further cuts in U.S. troop strength carry with them additional security risks.

They imply the strength reduction probably will fall hardest on the strategic troop reserve maintained in the United States for possible emergencies abroad, rather than any substantial cutbacks in overseas garrisons.

Defense authorities discount the idea budget pressures will accelerate the troop withdrawal from Vietnam.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff already are less than happy about the pace of U.S. troop withdrawals from Vietnam, preferring a slower-paced pullout.

Civilian Defense leaders are aware that budget cutting creates morale problems and sets the armed services to maneuvering against each other for larger shares of the smaller money fund available for men and weapons.

Snowmobile Taking Place of Old-Time Sled-Dog in Alaska

By JULES LOH
AP Newsfeatures Writer

POINT BARROW, Alaska (AP) — Bob Poole, the musher, had cause for grief last winter. One of his sled dogs was run over and killed by a snowmobile. It was insult heaped on injury. And it was inevitable.

The feisty little machines with their ear-splitting engines and baneful exhausts have made the working dog team almost as obsolete as the igloo.

Romantics might find that fact horrifying, but Alaskans couldn't be happier. The machines have liberated them from winter isolation and made a friend of the snow.

Even the Eskimos find virtue in snowmobiles.

"Too bad this place do not have enough flat place to have these iron dogs," lamented the newspaper at Little Diomed, a rock island in the Bering Strait, "for we sure can use them here."

"Use" is the correct verb. Most of the 285,000 Americans who bought snowmobiles last year got them primarily for fun. Point Barrow kids like to race merrily across the tundra too, but here an iron dog's main function is utilitarian. It is the arctic version of the family car.

Here, where winter lasts from October to May, snow machines with sleds attached take the kids to school, haul the groceries home, deliver the mail, tote the ice for drinking water and get the whole family to the Polar Bear theater on Saturday night.

Down on the Seward Peninsula, near Nome, reindeerherders use snowmobiles to chase strays. At Prudhoe Bay, on the Arctic Ocean, oil workers use them to shuttle from rig to rig. At Kotzebue, the airport limousine is a snowmobile with a sturdy dog sled attached.

"There's no question that snow machines have made a better life up here," said Eben Hopson, a Point Barrow civic leader.

"A cleaner life, too. Barrow (population 1,500) is the world's largest Eskimo village. Can you imagine the sanitation problem we had with 8 to 10 dogs chained at every house? In summer the smell was awful."

Hopson explained that employment for nearly every Barrow man is part time or seasonal when it's available at all. An Eskimo breadwinner still has to hunt and trap regularly to feed his family.

"With dogs a man could travel only about 35 miles a day," he said. "With a snow machine we can range out 100 miles or more on a weekend to find game and still be home Sunday night. My own trapline is 40 miles away. I can get there and back the same day. I could never do that with a dog team."

According to Bill Leavitt, a part time construction worker and skilled hunter, some Barrow men without jobs hunt full time with their snowmobiles and fare well enough that they can barter meat and skins for staple goods and fuel.

Thus the machines have had a demographic effect on the Arctic slope. A wider range of mobility has allowed Eskimos to live in population centers, near schools and hospitals and welfare agencies, and still have access to game trails. Cape Halkett, for instance, about 100 miles from Point Barrow, a few years ago was the permanent home of nine or ten Eskimo families and the temporary home, during game migration, of many more. Now the village is abandoned.

The accepted Eskimo method of driving a snowmobile, incidentally, is in a one-knee-on-the-seat position, like a boy riding a wagon.

And the accepted Eskimo name for the machine is "snow go," a brand name correctly spelled. Knowing this helps in interpreting such signs as the one posted in the Barrow school yard: "No Snow Goes Here."

Even as recreational items, snowmobiles have proved a psychological blessing in Alaska, where highways are scarce and cabin fever a common malady.

"I can remember when we had to put our automobiles on blocks in the winter and walk," said Robert Atwood, an Anchorage publisher.

McClerkin to Run for Governor

LITTLE ROCK—Speaker of the House Hayes McClerkin of Texarkana today announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Arkansas.

The 10-year veteran of the Arkansas Legislature made the initial announcement at a Little Rock press conference before flying to subsequent conferences in Jonesboro, Fort Smith and Texarkana.

In a prepared statement, McClerkin said:

"During my past ten years as a public servant, I have talked with and listened to the people of this state. Each year, more and more of these conversations with citizens of Arkansas have centered around one thing—concern over their lack of confidence in government today in both our state and in our nation."

"Because I share the same concern for what happens to Arkansas and because I have seen no workable solutions presented by the present administration, or those who aspire to lead our state, I am prepared to do something about this lack of faith in our state government. I am today announcing my candidacy for Governor of Arkansas.

"From a personal standpoint, I know we are in serious times in our state government and to solve the vast problems of our state, we must have a Governor who is willing to make the personal sacrifice to heal the wounds of our state. The solutions of the 50's and 60's will not solve the problems of the 70's nor can the solutions be found by appealing to limited segments of our society."

"My decision to run for Governor was not a hasty one nor was it something I've planned for years. My decision is the result of what I have seen firsthand in state government. I have seen Arkansas stymied by self-interest groups and by disinterested parties in an absentee administration. I have seen what the lack of opposition can do and on the other hand, what bitter opposition can do. I know why the people of Arkansas have no faith in their state government. They have no respect for leaders who have no respect for them."

"I have deep admiration for all Arkansans because I know exactly how they feel—frustrated, cheated and ignored. We can make a change in our government, but it will take work and this is where the challenge lies. As your next Governor, I am prepared to meet that challenge."

McClerkin was first elected as a state representative from Miller County in 1960 and since that time, has been re-elected to four consecutive terms. During the 67th General Assembly, he served as Speaker of the House during one regular and one special session.

The attorney was awarded a Bachelor of Science from Washington & Lee University in 1953. He then served for over three and a half years as an officer in the U.S. Navy before entering the School of Law at the University of Arkansas in 1956. After graduating with an LL.B. degree in 1959, he opened his law office in Texarkana.

Today his firm—Smith, Stroud, McClerkin & Conway—is one of the most respected in Southwest Arkansas.

During his years in the House of Representatives, McClerkin has served as chairman of the Efficiency and Public Health Committees while holding membership on the Revenue and Taxation, Banks and Banking, and Judicial Committees.

As a civic leader in Texarkana, McClerkin has been president of the Lions Club, chairman of the Miller County Rural Development Authority, an Advisory Board member for the Salvation Army, president of the Bowle-Miller Cancer Society and is a member of American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The legislator is also a director on the University of Arkansas Alumni Board and is a member of the American, Arkansas, and Miller County Bar Associations.

McClerkin is married to the former Miss Lillian Riggs of Little Rock and the couple has three children—Martha 7; Katherine, 5; and Lauren, 2. The McClerkins are members of the First Presbyterians Church of Texarkana where Hayes is an active deacon.

Ask Debt Limit Hike 18 Billions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, citing lower-than-expected tax collections, asked Congress today to raise the ceiling on government borrowing by $18 billion.

This would increase the debt ceiling from the present $377 billion to $395 billion. Without congressional action, the ceiling would automatically drop July 1 to $365 billion.

Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy, presenting the request to the House Ways and Means Committee, attributed the expected deficits in the budget for this year and the next largely to smaller revenues than had been expected.

Private Club Complains of Unfairness

YELLEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Marion County residents who were denied a mixed drink permit for a private club at Yellville (think the Arkansas Alcoholic Beverage Control Board discriminated against them and their constitutional rights.

The ABC denied the La Pintura Club the permit two weeks ago after a group opposed to the club testified at a board meeting in Little Rock.

Charles H. Muntzell of Yellville, who applied for the permit, said there was no legal basis for the refusal of the permit. He said he expected the application to be refiled within a year.

Muntzell said he would close his restaurant in Yellville, where the club would have been located, because of "insufficient support."

The club had applied for the permit under legislation passed last year which allows private clubs in dry counties to apply for mixed drink permits. Marion County is dry.

Opponents of the club contend that Marion County is legally dry and the club would destroy that status.

"Most of the opposition was by people who never want any change, no matter how minor, Muntzell said.

Bombers Hit Buildup of Enemy Force

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — While thousands of allied troops hunted for more enemy troops and supplies in Cambodia today, U.S. B-52 bombers attacked a new North Vietnamese buildup in South Vietnam's northernmost provinces.

About 60 of the big Strato-fortresses dropped nearly 2,000 tons of bombs on North Vietnamese base camps, bunkers and staging areas along the Demilitarized Zone and more than 11 miles to the south below Da nang.

South Vietnamese troops on a sweep just south of the DMZ caught up with a North Vietnamese force in one area where the B-52s hit.

Backed by artillery and fighter-bomber strikes, the South Vietnamese infantrymen reported 45 North Vietnamese soldiers killed and 17 weapons captured. They said four government troops were killed and 16 wounded.

Informed sources said North Vietnamese troops were moving across the DMZ and through Laos to take up positions in the rolling hills.

While the size of the buildup was uncertain, sources said it appeared similar to past troop concentrations that have been dealt with mainly by air attacks because allied forces are spread so thinly in the northernmost parts of South Vietnam.

"I don't see the North Vietnamese doing anything different from what they've done before," said one source. "They come in from across the DMZ and Laos from time to time. The idea is when there are enough of them in there to make a good target, we hit them."

Three American soldiers were killed and 31 wounded in rocket and mortar attacks Sunday on targets that included the headquarters of the U.S. 5th Marine Regiment southwest of Da Nang, an artillery base of the 101st Airborne Division between the A Shau valley and Hue and a battery of the 108th

Field Artillery Group just south of the DMZ.

The U.S. Command reported that American battlefield deaths in 25 days of operations in Cambodia had passed the 200 mark, and the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands said about 9,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong have been killed.

"U.S. casualties in all Cambodian operations are 201 killed and 756 wounded," said a U.S. communique.

In Cambodia Sunday night, North Vietnamese troops attacked U.S. air cavalrymen about 100 miles north of Saigon, killing five Americans and wounding eight in 20 minutes. Enemy losses were not known.

A South Vietnamese spokesman said the Saigon troops had taken control of the Chup rubber plantation, the biggest in Indochina, and were two to three miles to the east and southeast of Kompong Cham.

Old Nixon Foe, Knight, Dies at 73

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, whose in-party dispute with forces backing Richard M. Nixon helped knock Republicans out of state power for eight years, is dead at 73.
Knight, forced to the political sidelines by the GOP split which began developing in California in the mid-1950s, died of pneumonia Friday at a hospital in this Los Angeles suburb.
His five years and three months as governor beginning in 1953 were marked by the same peace and prosperity in California that the nation as a whole experienced during the Eisenhower presidency.
In 1956, Knight threatened to challenge Nixon, then vice president, for the right to lead the California delegation to the Republican National Convention should President Dwight D. Eisenhower decide against seeking re-election.
Two years later, pro-Nixon forces responded by boosting the candidacy of GOP Sen. William Knowland of California for Knight's job.
Knight said 10 months before the primary that he would run again, but he changed his mind at the last minute—in the interest of party harmony, he said—and ran for Knowland's Senate seat.
Both men lost in a Democratic landslide in 1958.
The next time around, in the 1962 gubernatorial election, Knight announced and then withdrew because of an attack of hepatitis. Nixon became the party choice. Knight refused to

Cancer of Breast Is Reduced

By C. G. McDaniel
AP Science Writer
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A screening program using a combination of methods helped reduce the rate of death from breast cancer in a group of women studied, a New York research team reported today.
The project involved 62,000 women in the Health Insurance Plan of Greater New York. Half were offered the screening, and the other half received no special attention.
Preliminary findings on the study, which began in 1963, were reported today at the 10th International Cancer Congress by Sam Shapiro, a vice president of the health plan.
Among the women not offered the screening, there have been 52 deaths from breast cancer, he said. Deaths from breast cancer among women offered the screening now total 31, he said, even though the program was hampered because one-third of the women who were offered screening refused it.
Screening included a clinical examination of the breast by a physician and mammography, a technique that uses low-voltage X rays to examine soft tissues in the breast.
The women studied were aged 40 to 64, the high frequency period for breast cancer, now the leading cause of death from cancer among women. Federal census figures show that among every 100,000 women, 20 to 25 die from breast cancer a year.
After an initial screening, the women studied received three additional examinations at annual intervals.
Shapiro said 127 breast cancers were detected as the result of the screening. The value of the combination technique was demonstrated, he said, by a determination that 42 of the cancers would have been missed without mammography and 56 would have been missed without the clinical examination.
Of the 127 cancers detected, 70 per cent had not spread, which greatly improved the women's chances for survival after surgery.
Ninety per cent of the breast cancers in women generally are discovered by the women themselves because a lump appears, and by this time the cancer has spread, Dr. Philip Strax, a coauthor of the report, noted.
Strax, chief of the Health plan's radiology department at La Guardia Hospital in New York, was joined in the study by Dr. Louis Venet, attending surgeon at Beth Israel Medical Center.

HELEN HELP US!
by Helen Bottel
YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!
This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper. A.H. THE DEPRIVITY OF IT ALL
Dear Helen: I do not think you are hep with the times. You seem to believe men actually remain faithful to their wives. How naive can you get? Men take whatever is offered and the new breed of predatory female offers a lot, constantly. I've made it my hobby to watch this sexual revolution, and if these depravities happen in our so-called "Bible Belt," think what goes on elsewhere!

Do you know why many men buy campers instead of family cars? Around here they are called "wagons for good reason." In the parking areas of shopping centers these libertines meet with their mobile bedrooms to exchange wives and husbands or swap dates. I have seen men and women drag-racing for sex on Route M-50 where I live in southern Michigan. I told my minister, but he is the type, complete with guitar, who believes in "love."

I know of a woman who sees other women drive by her house, then her husband takes off like a big bird for a "sudden shopping trip." Another woman's husband says he is sitting up for the late-late show, but sneaks out of the house to meet a divorcee down the road where they "park" in her car.
Some of these tricky hustlers snare the men away from their sweet, loving wives by getting pregnant and demanding a show-down. This leads to a divorce and the same thing happens when the next temptation comes along. A code among men is never to turn a woman down or she might kill herself for lack of love. They meet such women at laundromats, drive-in theaters, restaurants, out in the open, not hidden as it used to be in the '40s.

Wake up, Helen, to culture of the '70s. The faithful marriage is dead—WATCHFUL.
Dear W: "Depravity—sleuthing" isn't a HOBBY with you—it's an obsession! And what an obsessed person looks for, she finds, whether it's always there or not.
For every swingin' adulterer and "hussy," dear Watchful, I can show you ten good old faithfuls who just LOVE letters like yours because second-hand sex is better than none, and lots safer. Reading, they feel secure, contented, a little superior—and maybe a twinge envious.
It isn't naive to say that in our still basically moral America, more people wonder than wander, and that is why we so avidly devour the exposes. If everyone were doing it, who'd have time—or the inclination—to read?—H.

MEMO FROM HELEN TO HELEN (After I read my May 5th column): WHY ME????
Writing as I must three weeks ahead of publication, how was I to know that on the very day (May 5th) I advised "Concerned and Worried" to "look for the good news on the financial pages—it's still there,"—the stock market would hit its lowest point since 1963?

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — When adult, professional program makers move into the specialized area of children's programming, the result most often is a vicarious trip.
The audience may visit lobster pots off the Maine coast, see the nation's capital or travel through history back to colonial Boston, Saturday noon's NBC children's special, "Wilderness Road" took the familiar route and covered the Arizona desert, Wyoming's mountains and Georgia's Okefenokee swamp. The scenery and the sights were strung together on a slender plot with characters consisting of a real life nature photographer named Will Lewis and a couple of kids.

There was nothing much the matter with the program but nothing much, either, that warranted the use of the word special—except that it replaced a trio of cartoon shows including "Penelope Pitstop," which is always a plus.
Both NBC and CBS made a big fuss last year when they announced plans for innovative, big-budget specials for young viewers.

CBS's first, "J. T." was the most impressive of the lot—a study of a young black boy growing up in a slum and filmed in cinema verite style. It could be debated, however, whether this impressed children as much as it did adults. NBC's most interesting contribution has been "Hot Dog," an hour using a lively device to show how frankfurters, lead pencils and other common objects of daily life are put together.

NBC's second special on Saturday, "The New Communicators" was also aimed at the young audience, but not quite as young as the first, this was the first of three programs sampling the work of young people—students, amateurs and professionals—in the field of

Midwives Are Coming Back, This Time as Aides in Hospitals

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Midwives are making a comeback. But this time they are nurses and they deliver babies in hospitals, not homes.
Pretty, 28-year-old Mary Sue Wilson is helping lead the pack. "With so many women having babies, doctors are having trouble seeing them all," she said. "This is the reason for this new specialty."
Miss Wilson is a nurse with a year of post-graduate study specializing in nurse-midwifery. Now she's qualified to work under the supervision of a doctor, but only with patients whose physicians expect them to have normal deliveries.
"We don't work with women who have a history of diabetes, heart ailments, miscarriages or who have had difficult deliveries," she said.

A lot of the footage was abstract material—a short film consisting of fluid kaleidoscope patterns; a short film of geometric forms and brilliant color that alternately assaulted and excited the eye.

Peter Fonda narrated, but he was given a script that consisted of perfunctory introductions and credits rather than enlightening interpretation.
Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic Orchestra concluded the season's "Young People's Concerts" Sunday on CBS by playing Respighi's "The Pines of Rome" which the conductor used, most effectively, to show the way a symphony orchestra is put together and how it operates as a team.

NBC's science special Friday night, "The Great Barrier Reef" was full of fascinating underwater photography, most of it shot on the 1,200 miles of coral shelves off the coast of Australia. The emphasis, as it so often is these days, was on the delicate ecological balance maintained.

ies in the past," she said.
The daughter of a Fort Lauderdale doctor, Miss Wilson works at the University of Florida Medical School hospital and is to wed a doctor June 13. She is one of a handful of nurse-midwives in Florida.

Miss Wilson takes a hand early in pregnancy and sets up regular visits with her patients until they deliver. All 41 births she has attended have been at hospitals.

Generally, Miss Wilson delivers the child with the help of one regular nurse.
"If anything goes wrong, we are instructed to call the doctor immediately," she said. "We don't deliver breech babies and we don't do any Caesarian sections."

How do patients react?
"Some patients are happy to get a woman because they feel a woman would have more empathy," she said. "Others are modest and like a woman for that reason."

"But mainly women like to have a nurse-midwife because she can give more attention. A lot of them seem to relate better to women, anyway."

A's Pitching Half Has the Better Side

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The room shared by Chuck Dobson and Reggie Jackson of the Oakland A's isn't the best place in the world to go looking for base hits these days. Dobson isn't giving up many and Jackson isn't getting many.

Dobson's half of the room was in fine form Sunday. The right-hander checked the Chicago White Sox 5-1 on one hit—Gail Hopkins' first-inning single—in the opener of a doubleheader. But Jackson, who sat out the first game with a sub-200 batting average, managed only one single in the nightcap although the A's managed a sweep of the twin bill 5-2.

To make Jackson's day even worse, owner Charles O. Finley threatened the slugging outfielder with a trip to the minor leagues to help him find the batting eye that accounted for 47 home runs and 118 runs batted in last year ago.

Elsewhere in the American League, California nipped Minnesota 6-5, Baltimore beat Boston 2-1 in 10 innings before losing the nightcap 4-3, the New York Yankees swept Cleveland 6-5 and 8-7 in 11 innings, Washington downed Detroit 6-4 and Kansas City slayed Milwaukee 6-5 in 10.

In the National League, Houston outslugged Cincinnati 10-7, the Chicago Cubs beat the New York Mets 3-1 in their opener and then dropped the second game by the same score, San Francisco took two from San Diego 6-1 and 7-6, Los Angeles thumped Atlanta 8-1, Philadelphia edged St. Louis 6-5 in 10 innings and Pittsburgh blanked Montreal 3-0.

Dobson allowed a first-inning run on a walk, Hopkins' single and a sacrifice fly, then permitted only two more Chicago batters to reach base, both on errors. He retired 20 straight on one stretch.

The A's tied the game in the fourth on Sal Bando's single and went ahead in the sixth on run-scoring hits by Tito Francona and Frank Fernandez. Francona singled across another run in the eighth.

Two-run homers by Blue Moon Odom and Don Mincher powered the A's in the nightcap, with reliever Paul Lindblad rescuing Odom in the seventh inning.

But Finley made the biggest move of the day when he threatened to ship Jackson to the minors. Finley said:

"He has been struggling and we have struck with him. Now we have decided to platoon him by not playing him against left-handers. If he starts hitting right-handers, then we will gradually work him back against left-handers. We hope it isn't necessary, but if he doesn't start hitting the right-handers, we just might have to send him back to the minors."

The Angels blew a 5-1 lead but managed to nip the Twins on Sandy Alomar's tie-breaking single in the ninth inning and move within one-half game of the front-runners in the AL West.

Roger Repoz slammed a two-run homer and Jim Fregosi contributed a two-run double as the Angels took a quick 5-1 lead. George Mitterwald paced the Twins' comeback with a home run in the fifth and a game-tying triple in the eighth.

Brooks Robinson shook off a fourth-inning beating and hit a home run in the 10th inning that gave the Orioles their triumph in the opener. Curt Motton had tied the score in the ninth with a pinch single while George Scott homered for the Red Sox.

Baltimore came from behind twice to tie the score in the nightcap, with Boog Powell and Paul Blair hitting solo homers, but Boston prevailed on a sacrifice fly by pinch hitter Dick Schofield in the ninth. Sonny Siebert fanned 10 Orioles.

Baseballs were flying all over Cleveland's Municipal Stadium, with the Yankees hitting five home runs and the Indians six, all in the nightcap, including three by Tony Horton and two by Ray Fosse.

John Ellis was the big gun for the Yanks, with an RBI double and game-winning homer in the opener and a three-run homer in the second game that brought New York from behind. They were the first homers of the sea-

Commissary Cops Vanity at Hollywood

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer

Just missing first money all those times must have hurt Commissary's vanity. So Saturday the 4-year-old filly took care of that with a capital V.

The Vanity Handicap at Hollywood Park went to Commissary, owned by Hat Ranch, when she completed the 1 1/2 miles a nose in front of Barbara Hunter's Pattee Canyon, with Rex C. Ellsworth's Tipping Time third in the field of fillies and mares.

Commissary, second in eight stakes before the Vanity, carried 118 pounds, including Wayne Harris, over the distance in 1:47 3/5 for first money of $46,500 from the gross purse of $80,250 and a winning mutual payoff of $11. Pattee Canyon was high-weighted at 124, and Tipping Time total 120.

Fillies and mares also were featured on the closing program of Aqueduct's spring meeting, with Mrs. Whitney Stone's Shuvee taking the $57,500 Top Flight Handicap for her first victory in four starts this year.

Braulio Baeza put Shuvee, winner of New York's Triple Crown for 3-year-old fillies in 1969, on the lead at the break and she led all the way for a four-length victory over Walter Jeffords Jr.'s Singing Rain, C.V. Whitney's Swiss Cheese was third at the end of the 1 1/2 miles.

The big race at Garden State Park also was for fillies and mares, but this one—the $31,825 Cherry Hill Handicap—was on the grass. And the winner was Roland Seaman's Sea Force by 1 1/2 lengths over Wheatley Stable's Stolen Base.

L. Wolken's and M.J. Cooperman's favored Hook It Up, $34,40, won the $20,000-added Bashford Manor Stakes for 2-year-olds on closing day at Cmurichill Downs; Harry Minasian's Klassy Poppy, $4,40, took the $20,000 John R. Macomber Memorial Handicap at Suffolk Downs, and George De Mattel's Pappa's Pet, $9, scored in the $15,775 Campanile Handicap at Golden Gate Fields.

In two $7,500 features, Sun Lover, $2,40, won the Springtime Stakes at Tropical Park and Stay Out Front, $4,80, won the Real Delight Handicap at Washington Park.

son for Ellis.

Lindy McDaniel won both games in relief while Fred Lasher, the Indians' newly acquired reliever, was tagged with both defeats. Roy White, Horace Clarke and Ron Hansen also homered for the Yanks, Jack Heidemann for Cleveland.

Rick Reichardt's grand slam homer capped Washington's six-run uprising in the second inning against Mickey Lolich and the Senators held off the Tigers despite two-run homers by Bill Freehan and Jim Northrup. Hawk Taylor's two-run single in the 10th lifted Kansas City past Milwaukee after the Brewers had gone ahead in the top of the inning on a lost-in-the-sun triple and Ted Kubiak's single.

President Andrew Johnson was about 17 years old when his wife taught him how to write.

33 Cars Line Up for Famed 'Indy 500'

By DALE BURGESS

Associated Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Three former winners will lead one of the best-balanced fields in history into Saturday's 54th 500-mile auto race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

The 33-car lineup, rounded off in the final 10-mile qualifications Sunday, averaged a record 167.139 miles per hour. The old mark was 166.295 last year.

The qualifying speeds ranged from 170.221 by Al Unser, who won the pole position May 16, to 165.373 by slowest qualifier Sammy Sessions. The 1969 field's spread was 170.569 to 160.851.

Unser is not a former winner but the favorite of many Speedway veterans in his fifth attempt. Al's brother Bobby, the 1968 winner, also is in the line-up along with three-time winner A.J. Foyt Jr., and last year's winner, Mario Andretti, who set the race record of 156.867.

Veterans almost crowded newcomers out of the field. Only four rookies make the program, the smallest number since 1960. Foyt, with 12 Indianapolis starts behind him, is approached in Speedway experience only by Lloyd Ruby, starting for the 11th time, and Dan Gurney, Jim McElreath and Roger McCluskey, for the ninth time. Bobby Unser will start for the eighth time.

No really exotic cars made the program, although there are innovations in the British-built Brabhams and McLaren's and the made-in-Germany McNamara. Eighteen of the cars are powered by turbocharged four-cylinder Offenhausers, 15 by turbocharged eight-cylinder Fords.

Ruby and Jack Brabham, native of Australia and three-time world road racing champion, rated among the top contenders qualified over the weekend, along with the second Bill Vukovich, whose father won the big race twice.

Vukovich, unable to get his original Edmunds-Offenhauser up to competitive speed, jumped into a Brabham-Offy and made the line-up with speed to spare. Ruby also qualified solidly after a string of six straight engine failures in the last three weeks.

McElreath was the only driver able to "bump" an earlier qualifier and squeeze into the line-up in Sunday's final session. He joined Foyt's four-car team, averaged 166.821 in his Coyote-Ford, and eliminated rookie Kevin Bartlett of Australia. McElreath himself had been bumped by Brabham Saturday.

The three weeks of practice and the time trials for the Memorial Day race were run off without a fatality at the 61-year-old racing plant where 52 persons have been killed. There were 12 accidents in this year's 500 preliminaries but only New Zealander Denis Hulme, former world champion, was injured. He suffered severe burns on the hands and feet when leaking fuel caught fire in his cockpit May 10.

Three cars spun into the wall in the final qualifying and practice sessions, all of them driven by men who have never made the 500 line-up. None of the three, Al Loquasto, Jigger Sirols and Tony Adamowicz, was hurt.

Adamowicz was among drivers who completed qualifying runs but failed to hold their positions when the 33 best speeds were posted for the line-up. Others were rookies Steve Krisloff and Bentley Warren.

4-Minute Mile Broken at Modesto

MODESTO, Calif. (AP)—Jim Crawford, former Harding College runner, has broken the four-minute barrier for the first time by winning the mile in the California Relays in 3:59.6 Saturday night.

Crawford finished his track eligibility at Harding in 1969, but has remained at the Seary school to work on his teacher's certificate and assist in the Bison track program.

Ruby's Luck All Bad as He Prepares for Indianapolis 500

By LLOYD RUBY

Written for

The Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Well, here we are for the 11th time at the old Brickyard. In spite of some things that shouldn't happen to anyone, we're in the 500 field—starting 25th in a field of 33 cars.

But if my luck gets as good as it's been bad, I'm sure nobody'll be able to race with me race day.

To start with, we ran 167 miles an hour the first time we went on the race track, May 4. But from then until last Saturday, everything seemed to go backwards instead of forwards.

I blew an engine on Mother's Day. I mean it scattered everywhere. Gene White, my car owner, called his wife and told her old Rube had just blown her Mother's Day present.

We kept having engine problems for the next week. Dave Laycock, my chief mechanic, and the whole crew went four days and nights without any sleep. By the first day of qualifying, we figured they had found the problem.

I went out that Saturday and put together three practice laps at better than 171 miles an hour. We felt real good about our chances for the pole position.

Of course, our luck in the draw for a qualifying position had to be typical of the whole week—we drew the very last one, 50th position.

We got in line to qualify and that's right where we stayed. We were four cars back when the rain drenched our hopes for that day.

Sunday morning of that first qualifying weekend, the weather changed completely. It had been real cool Saturday, but Sunday I could have fried an egg on the straightaway. I tried a piston instead. That forced us to go to our backup car. I ran laps above 169, so we again decided to qualify and I got back in line.

At Indy, you get three warm-up laps prior to a qualifying run. If you're going to make an attempt, you have to hold up your hand on the third lap. I held up my hand the third time by the clock.

But there was that Rube luck again. I had a lap of better than 169 but the officials didn't see my hand. It made me mad as hell. Everybody else on pit road saw my hand.

They sent me right back out and I ran three laps above 168. Had I been credited with that first lap, I'd have been in the field. As it turned out, the fourth lap ended halfway down the backstretch when the engine seized. I knew then my chances of making the field the first weekend were just about

Giants Win Double Bill for Manager

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

Charlie Fox says he's a patient man...but the San Francisco Giants aren't taking any chances.

The Giants gave new Manager Fox a solid sendoff Sunday by sweeping a doubleheader from the San Diego Padres 6-1 and 7-6.

"I'll let the players do things until they prove to me they can't," said the 48-year-old Fox, who assumed command before the twin bill following the ouster of Clyde King.

Thus assured, the Giants did in the Padres with a barrage of four home runs in the opener and a seven-run inning in the nightcap. Willie McCovey slammed a pair of homers as Gaylord Perry won the first game with a four-hitter before three San Diego errors opened the gates in the fifth inning of the second game.

Elsewhere in the National League, Chicago and New York divided a doubleheader, the Cubs taking the opener 3-1 and the Mets winning the nightcap by the same score; Houston downed Cincinnati 10-7; Philadelphia edged St. Louis 6-5 in 10 innings; Los Angeles drubbed Atlanta 8-1 and Pittsburgh beat Montreal 3-0.

In the American League, California nipped Minnesota 6-5; the New York Yankees shaded Cleveland twice, 6-5 and 8-7 in 11 innings; Baltimore split a pair with Boston, winning 2-1 in 10 innings before bowing 4-3; Oakland swept a twin bill from the Chicago White Sox 5-1 and 5-2; Washington trimmed Detroit 6-4 and Kansas City defeated Milwaukee 6-5 in 10 innings.

The Giants rebounded from Saturday's 17-10 marathon loss to San Diego, after which King was fired by club owner Horace Stoneham, on bases-empty homers by McCovey in the fourth and sixth innings of the opener and solo swats by Bonds, in the seventh and Mays, in the eighth.

Bad Clutch Costs Him $36,950

By HUBERT MIZELL

Associated Press Sports Writer
CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — David Pearson slumped his defeated body across the nearest table. The stock car king was beaten physically by Sunday's boiling heat and mentally by personal misfortune.

"God, I thought I had it won," he murmured. "Had it in my hands."

An expressway driver can fork out $200 for a busted clutch at his neighborhood garage. The same problem had just cost Pearson a cool $36,950.

Pearson led by two miles when he wheeled his Ford Torino into the pits for a final World 600 stop. A routine service job and he was home free in a two-car fight with Ford teammate Donnie Allison.

On went the tires, in went the gas and Pearson got set to sail back to the 1½-mile Charlotte Motor Speedway with 55 miles to go. Nothing. Crew members pushed, but nothing. A broken clutch killed the Spartanburg, S.C., driver's hopes and he limped frustrated toward the garage.

Allison, meanwhile, had been relieved by LeeRoy Yarbrough after his Ford floorboard overheated. Yarbrough's own Mercury had fizzled because of a bad clutch, but he sailed to a $39,600 triumph in the Allison machine.

Pearson was presented a slim $2,650 payday, a mere pauper's wage next to the fat check Allison stuffed in his racing suit.

Cale Yarborough's Mercury suffered a long pit stop early in the 400-lap grind with spark plug problems, but the stock South Carolinian plugged away and picked up second money of $17,380.

Benny Parsons of Detroit was a surprise third-place finisher in another Ford and earned $11,595. Tiny Lund wheeled the highest finisher among the favored Dodge Daytonas, taking fourth place and a payoff of $7,565.

Former stock car golden boy Fred Lorenzen was en route to a triumphant return to the sport after a three-year retirement, but a blown engine in his Dodge killed his chances after 300 miles.

Lorenzen, 35, has won four races at Charlotte including a pair of World 600s. His car was sponsored by the speedway itself and helped lure 70,000 fans to the sport's longest race.

Allison is part of a Hueytown, Ala., brother team. His brother, Bobby, went out early with a blown engine in his Dodge.

Donnie had finished second to Buddy Baker and LeeRoy in his last two shots at the 600-mile. He also was a winner here in the National 500 last October.

Yarbrough was dressed in civilian clothes and headed to a helicopter when Allison's call came for a relief driver. LeeRoy was en route to the airport to fly his own plane to Indianapolis. Both he and Allison will drive in the Memorial Day 500

CURIOUS horse may be wondering what a parrot is doing perched on a handbag and what's a pocketbook doing on the ground anyway? Owner was not far away, awaiting start of Royal Windsor horse show in England.

next Saturday. "I ducked into a bathroom and changed back into my driving suit," said Yarborough, who had not seen victory lane this season. "When I got behind the wheel of Donnie's Ford I knew it was a hot seat."

Allison's floorboard sizzled when insulation burned away, leaving only a thin sheet of metal between the driver and red-hot exhaust pipes.

"I was cooked," said Allison. "I had to get out of the car and I'm thankful LeeRoy, who is so familiar with Ford products, was available to drive for me."

Allison's car averaged 129.680 miles an hour. The speed was held down by 10 caution flags covering 99 laps.

Pole sitter Bobby Isaac had early radiator problems in his Dodge Daytona and settled for seventh place.

Elsewhere on the auto racing scene Sunday, Carl Harrison of Tiffin, Ohio, won the 22nd Little 500 sprint car race at the Sun Valley Speedway at Anderson, Ind.

Dick Trickle made his first U.S. Auto Club start of the season a good one, winning the $7,500 stock car feature at New Bremen, Ohio. Trickle, of Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., pushed his 1969 Torino the 50 miles around the half-mile asphalt track in 34:43.34.

Ron Grable of Cupertino, Calif., led from the start to finish and lapped all but a few of the 14 other drivers who finished to win the second race of the Continental Formula A series in a Lolo T190 at Edmonton, Alta.

In Zolder, Belgium, Austrian Jochen Rindt, driving a Lotus Ford, won the Formula 2 Grand Prix of Limbourg auto race.

Holland's Toine Hezemans drove his Alfa Romeo GTA to victory in the European Championship of Touring Cars race at the Czechoslovak Grand Prix Circuit in Brno, Czechoslovakia.

Jean-Pierre Jaussaud of France won the Paris Grand Prix for Formula 3 cars on the Montlhéry, France, circuit.

6th ABA Playoff Game Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Stars, running out of time—and apparently running out of Los Angeles as well—are counting on their running game against the Indiana Pacers in tonight's sixth game of the American Basketball Association playoffs.

The Pacers need one more victory to clinch their first ABA crown. A year ago they lost to Oakland's Oaks in the finals.

Everything the Stars do is a "first" for them. They've never made the playoffs, much less the finals. But now, facing elimination, they must win tonight to send the series back to Indianapolis for a seventh and deciding game Tuesday night.

Tonight's game, however, appears to be a "last" for the Cincinnati club—their last game in Los Angeles, General Manager Jim Hantry says. New owner Mel Daniels has decided to move the club either to nearly Anaheim or Salt Lake City next season.

If they win the championship, then move, it will keep alive what seems to have become an ABA tradition.

The Pittsburgh Pipers won the first ABA title two years ago, then moved to Minnesota. Last year the Oaks captured the crown, then became the Washington Caps.

The Stars depended heavily on their running game—triggered by little speedster Mack Calvin—to get them into post-season play and past Dallas and Denver in the Western Division playoffs.

But they tried to outthink rather than outrun the Pacers, runaway winners in the East. Suddenly they found themselves down three games to one.

"We knew that Indiana would be laying for Mack," Coach Bill Sharman said. "We also knew that, in quick, strong Bill Keller, they had a guard who could put the pressure on Mack all over the court."

"So we decided to have either Bobby Warren or the other guard bring the ball up because we knew they would not be pressured as much," Sharman explained. "Maybe I tried to use too much strategy."

On Saturday they reverted to their running game and won the nationally televised contest 117-113 in overtime. Calvin scored

Players and Clubs in 3-Year Deal

NEW YORK (AP) — A new three-year agreement between owners and players has the green light from Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association.

Last week, negotiations committed for both sides reached a "basic agreement subject to ratification by the players and owners," Miller said Sunday. He said he would recommend 33 points and the Stars got 23 more from center Craig Raymond and 22 from forward George Stone.

"The game was more like the way we played when we were winning," Sharman said. "Everybody took turns leading a spurt."

"We still didn't run as well as we can, but Mack opened up and it made the rest of the guys hustle to try and catch up. We did play better defense and made the Pacers work hard for their shots."

"We had some breaks go our way for a change," Sharman added. "We held Roger Brown under 50 (the brilliant forward led all scorers with 39; and we were fortunate that his shot before the end of regulation didn't go in—because it was a shot he usually makes."

ratification by the players and voting would be completed within a week.

"I cannot say anything more at this point," he added.

But at least one player representative was happy about the tentative agreement. Dave Maxwell of St. Louis said Sunday he was satisfied and thought it would be approved by the players.

Maxwell said under the agreement a player out during spring training would get 30 days pay and one whose employment terminated during the season would get 60 days pay and that the players would receive 60 per cent, instead of 50, from the proceeds of the first three playoff games other than the World Series.

John Gaherin, the owners' representative, was unavailable for comment.

The players voted 505-89 several weeks ago to reject a new pact. Miller had not recommended ratification of that agreement.

Dennis Hextall
MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League have sold forward Dennis Hextall to the Oakland Seals of the NHL in a straight cash deal, it was revealed during the weekend.

Helping build Arkansas by building a bigger Arkansas Nuclear One.

Arkansas is on the grow. So to keep pace with our Land of Opportunity's future energy needs, Arkansas Power & Light is announcing plans for a second unit at Arkansas Nuclear One, the Southwest's first nuclear-fueled generating station.

Unit 1, under construction near the town of London, just west of Russellville on Dardanelle Reservoir, is scheduled for completion in 1973.

Unit 2 will be built on the same site at a cost of $180 million—which tops Unit 1 as Arkansas' largest single industrial investment. Its 950,000 kilowatt capacity will make it the State's largest generating unit. Together, Units 1 and 2 will have more generating capacity for AP&L customers than we had on our entire state-wide system last year.

The decision to build this second nuclear-fueled unit is the result of many months of study of the availability of all possible fuel supplies in 1976 when the plant goes into operation to meet the fast growing needs of our customers.

And one more thing: Unit 2 will be the cleanest possible type of power plant in our environment.

Practically no air pollution. No thermal effects. Impressive twin cooling towers will eliminate the use of reservoir water for cooling.

Unit 2 is a reflection of still greater things to come for our State in her greatest decade ever.

And at AP&L, we're happy to continue to play a part in this growth through Arkansas Nuclear One—getting better by getting bigger.

Sniper's Shot Firms Up Woman's Mind on the War in Vietnam

DEARBORN HEIGHTS, Mich. (AP) — A Dearborn Heights housewife says she is convinced more than ever that the United States should be in South Vietnam, after touring a Communist zone where a Communist sniper fired at her, her sail-or son and a friend.

"I guess I was just tired of hearing demonstrators and protesters tell me what the facts were," said Mrs. Raymond Brimmer.

"I had a son over there and I wanted to see for myself, said the trim, blonde housewife, who is in her 40s.

She said she went alone last week to Saigon to visit her son, Edward, 19, who is stationed at a naval base at Dong Tam. She said they met a 24-year-old lieutenant, who had served two tours in South Vietnam, and he agreed to take them on a jeep's tour of military installations in combat areas.

"Of course, we didn't ask anybody's permission about any of this and I certainly don't want to get that lieutenant in trouble," she said, about the trip. She declined to give his name.

She said they took a 3½-day tour of American installations, including Dong Tam and Long

Mrs. Brimmer said she talked to about 20 servicemen about the war, adding: "I can tell you the United States should be in there for. They know they have combat zone where a Communist sniper fired at her, her sail-or son and a friend."

"I can't forget any of their faces. I wouldn't take a million dollars for the experience," she said. "When those guys read about the protests in this country, or trying to vote to cut money off for the war, it gets them down worse than anything except getting shut out at mail call."

She said her son, an only child, enlisted in the Navy "because he believed in America."

Guard Fails to Attract Negroes

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The adjutant general of the Arkansas National Guard says that a campaign to enlist more Negroes has not been successful.

Maj. Gen. Charles H. Wilson said in an interview that of the 1,300 Arkansans who joined the guard last year, only 15 were Negroes.

Wilson said the Army and Air Guards had a total of about 100 Negroes, including about 60 who enlisted since the campaign began in late 1967. The total strength of the state's Guard is nearly 10,000.

"We improved the situation in Arkansas, but the progress was so little it was negligible," he said. "We are continuing recruiting efforts, but not as strenuously as in the past simply because the Negroes have shown little interest in the Guard."

The National Guard has been desegregated since the 1950s. Wilson said however, that "we are still being accused of being closed to the minority race."

He said that an effort was being made to get more Negroes in the Guard, but that concessions or special inducements cannot be offered. Whites and blacks must be treated the same, he said.

2 Escape From Jail at Camden

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP) — Two men, believed to be escapees from the Ouachita County Jail at Camden, robbed a service station early today at Bluff City about 20 miles northwest of here.

State Police said the two, armed with pistols, took an undetermined amount of money.

State Police Sgt. Jim Wooten said that a number of police units, along with the State Police airplane, have been sent into the area to search for the fugitives.

The two who escaped from jail Sunday were identified by police as Lyndale "Wimphy" Walker, 26, of Childerston and Fred B. Chamberlain, 24, of Pine Bluff.

Procedure Set for Lawmen

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer

Arkansas' law enforcement officials are being armed with a manual to help guide them in their day-to-day work.

"It primarily deals with procedures they follow in order to afford a person his full constitutional rights and to make sure the officer's gathering of evidence in making his case is done in a manner that is legally permissible," says James W. Gallman, a University of Arkansas law professor who headed the project that put the manual together.

The 121-page booklet is a project of the Criminal Procedure Institute, which was established at the University of Arkansas by the 1969 General Assembly.

The 18 months of work that went into the preparation of the manual was financed partly by a $50,000 grant under the federal Law Enforcement Assistance Act of 1965.

State Sen. Richard Earl Griffin of Crossett, a candidate for attorney general, pushed through a two-year appropriation in 1969 to pay for publishing the manual. The university also contributed its services.

The manual will be supplemented as the law is changed. In addition, the institute will publish a monthly newsletter to give officers current information about cases that might affect their work.

Distribution of copies of the manual to every policeman in the state began last week.

"It is something the officers can understand to acquaint them with the new requirements," Gallman said. "This is an educational process for them. We hope it will help them avoid the pitfalls."

The manual covers a number of topics, ranging from pre-trial publicity to the rights of defendants to police report writ-

World Wide Pictures Presents
His Land
— a sight and sound experience

"His Land" is to be shown at First Baptist church on Wednesday evening, May 27, at 7:30.

This is a gripping motion picture that confronts you with the challenge, significance and meaning of the events now happening in the Middle East. "His Land," is your passport to an unforgettable adventure. The public is cordially invited to view this presentation with the members of First Baptist Church.

ing. It cites state and federal court rulings in pointing out a law to the officers.

Gallman said, however, it did not purport to cover all areas of criminal procedure. He points out in a preface to the manual that local court rules and departmental regulations are an important part of each police department's program and must be supplied locally.

In addition, he said, some departments might need officers skilled in such procedural areas as wiretapping, electronic surveillance and riot control, subjects not covered in the manual.

Gallman said the author of the manual attempted to cover only topics that could be useful in solving day-to-day procedural problems.

The authors were advised by judges, prosecutors and police in drafting the booklet.

Gallman said he knew of no other state that had such a manual.

He said he believed it would result in increased effectiveness in law enforcement and at the same time preserve the basic rights of citizens.

Gallman was a defense attorney and assistant U.S. attorney for the Eastern District of Arkansas before joining the university of Law School faculty.

Some Thoughts on the War in Cambodia, Vietnam

W eek-end dispatches from the Far East struck this ominous note:

France is definitely hostile to the Cambodian leaders who ousted the Communist-bent Prince Norodom Sihanouk, therefore U. S. military leaders feel they have to reckon with French influence that is being thrown on the side of our enemies.

Something the American public should never forget in its puzzlement over unfriendly policies by our old European ally is that France had a Vietnam war before ours, that the United States refused to help France with combat planes, France eventually lost the Vietnam war — and has steadfastly wished us misfortune in the present conflict.

The new disclosure of French opposition in Cambodia is merely an extension of displeasure with the Vietnam picture.

And all of it traces back to what the United States told France in her hour of peril years ago in Vietnam: In effect, "The U.S.A. isn't about to help France fight to retain an Indo-China colony."

Perhaps it was the truth — but the words back yonder were enough to infuriate the French so that today they hint what we're after is to spread American influence and even colonization in Southeast Asia — with scant attention to the fact that the Communists have broken the old French treaty which set up the Military Demarcation Line in Vietnam and now are attempting to seize all Southeast Asia.

If anything were calculated to make Americans stand determined and together — this is it.

Youth Corps to Offer Summer Jobs

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Summer work opportunities for more than 4,000 boys and girls from poverty families will be provided this summer by the Neighborhood Youth Corps.

A spokesman for the Department of Labor, the sponsoring agency, said the goal of the program is to provide youths with earnings and work experience and to encourage them to remain in school.

In Arkansas, the Arkansas Farmers Union operates the NYC program in 37 counties, and the Little Rock School District operates the program in Pulaski County.

Other cities that will operate summer NYC programs include Dardanelle, Pocahontas, Benton, Van Buren, Forrest City, Blytheville, Batesville, Camden and Pine Bluff.

Agnew Talks on Disease Battle

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Nations of the world should cooperate this decade "to make life and health one birthright of all children," Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said Sunday.

In a speech to the 10th International Cancer Congress, Agnew proposed that the next ten years be the Decade Against Disease.

"By rising above narrow self-interest," Agnew said, "let us join together in a determined venture to make life and health one birthright of all children born from this day on regardless of nationality, race or religious beliefs."

Dean Urges Schools Back Home Towns

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Dr. Robert J. Keller, dean of the College of Education of the University of Minnesota, has urged colleges and universities to "join forces with local communities in seeking to resolve local and state problems."

He told a record graduating class of 554 at commencement exercises Saturday night at State College of Arkansas that graduates needed to help provide a communications link between institutions of higher education and the general public.

Winners at District Poultry Festival

— Hope (Ark.) Star photos, Pod Rogers
Donna Lynne Johnston of El Dorado; Diana Susan Kirk of Morrilton; Charlotte (Casey) Lorene Kerr of Jacksonville; and Sherry Danita Mathis of Arkadelphia.

Winners of the District Producers Awards at Nashville Saturday night were: Left to right—Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Koger of Prescott, commercial pullets division; Mr. and Mrs. D.B. Yarbrough of Nashville, broilers; Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Henderson of Delight, breeder hens; Mr. and Mrs. D.L. Green of Nashville, breeder pullets; and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Dillard of Hope, commercial hen producers.

Not pictured are the 4-H Barbecue Winners: Gwen-dolyn Young, Nevada county; Brenda Yarbrough, Nevada county; Paula Polindexter, Hempstead county; Lillian Pogue, Sevier county; Gloria Hatten, Columbia county; and two alternates, Randy Jones, Union county, and Karen Reed, Montgomery county.

A record number of 32 contestants competed before a packed house in the new Junior High School Auditorium at Nashville Saturday night for a position as one of five finalists to represent the Southwest District at the State Pageant in Hot Springs, June 11th, 12th, and 13th.

The usual fare of barbecued chicken was missed but did not hinder the event being a success. However, this was the final Southwest Arkansas District Poultry Festival which began 1960 and was co-sponsored by Hope and Nashville on alternate years.

The entertainment was outstanding including the Master of Ceremonies P.D. Gathright, Miss Texarkana, Marsha Barnes, Barbara and Sandy, Glen Campbell's sisters and also his parents. Miss Barnes danced a Spanish number and the Campbell's and their group performed songs that Glen has recorded and made famous.

Air Support to Continue in Cambodia

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Indications are continuing to pile up that U.S. air support, and perhaps more, will be provided for South Vietnamese forces remaining in Cambodia after American forces pull out sometime next month.

Although President Nixon seemed to say earlier this month there would be no such help, Secretary of State William P. Rogers indicated Sunday U.S. air aid would be provided for South Vietnamese operations continuing after the American soldiers withdraw.

Another administration official, Herbert Klein, the President's communications director, said Sunday "I couldn't really rule in or out," the likelihood of American air and logistic support for troops Saigon keeps in Cambodia following the June 30-mandated U.S. withdrawal.

Klein was interviewed on the CBS program "Face the Nation."

Nixon appeared to rule out such American action in a May 8 news conference. "I would expect that the South Vietnamese would come out at approximately the same time that we do," he said then, "because when we come out our logistical support and air support will also come out."

In that news conference Nixon said the main reasons for the sudden move into Cambodia was to destroy a key enemy headquarters and to protect the security of American forces as they are withdrawn from the war zone by destroying the enemy's extensive sanctuaries in Cambodia.

Since then there have been various and varying reports of why the move was made, including one that the overthrow of left-leaning but neutralist chief of state Prince Norodom Sihanouk made the time right for a strike into Cambodia.

But Nixon's public statement was supported over the weekend by a highly placed source among U.S. uniformed military leaders.

This source said the sudden attack April 30 resulted directly from an urgent call by Gen. Creighton Abrams, U.S. military commander in Vietnam.

Abrams based his appeal, the source explained, on the need to protect his men while still trying to meet Nixon's previously announced schedule of withdrawing 150,000 U.S. troops from South Vietnam over the next year.

Trooper Beaten, House Is Burned

CORNING, Ark. (AP) — Police said today that someone entered the home of State Police Sgt. Willie Hopper, 46, of Corning, sometime Sunday night and severely beat him and set his house on fire.

State Police Sgt. Jim Wooten said that Hopper was hospitalized at Blytheville in fair condition. Hopper's home was destroyed.

Wooten said that an investigation is under way. Police said this was the second attempt this month to burn Hopper's home.

2 Accidents Over Week-End

Hope Police Dept. investigated two accidents Saturday afternoon; the first at 12:40 in Dairy street where a car driven by James Worthy of Ozon went out of control and went into a ditch, Officer Richard Rowe charged Worthy with reckless driving.

At 3 p.m. a freak accident occurred when a car being worked on by Freddie Lee Maudrew suddenly started and ran into the Bruner-Ivory Handle Co. building on East Avenue D, Officer Jesse Brown investigated.

Chief Alvin Willis issued this weekend report: 7 traffic violations, 2 license violations, 5 drunkenness, 4 driving while intoxicated, 1 case of carrying a concealed weapon, 1 disturbing the peace, 1 resisting arrest and 1 petit larceny. This comes to a total of 103 accidents thus far this year with 15 injuries.

Delta Plane Hijacked to Cuba

MIAMI (AP) — A Delta Airlines jet with 96 passengers and a crew of six, hijacked in flight from Atlanta to Miami, landed in Havana at 8:23 a.m. EDT today.

On the runways of Jose Marti Airport, the U.S. airliner joined a Mexican plane with 79 persons aboard diverted by an unknown number of hijackers en route from the resort island of Cozumel to the Yucatan capital of Merida.

The pilot of the Delta flight radioed the Atlanta tower shortly after takeoff from there at 6:45 a.m. that the plane had been commandeered and was on its way to Cuba. The flight originated in Chicago and had made a stop at Louisville.

Seventy-two passengers and seven crewmen were aboard the other aircraft owned by the airline Mexicana de Aviacion. It was not known whether any foreigners were on the flight.

Why and Wherefore of Road Deaths

Memorial Day weekend will see thousands of motorists traveling the state's highways in search of fun and relaxation. State Police Director Ralph D. Scott, today promised assistance for distressed motorists and the tightest possible enforcement during the holiday period.

He issued an appeal to all motorists who plan to travel during the holiday period to obey the "rules of the road," and to practice common courtesy.

He said State Police personnel will be out in force, patrolling the highways 24 hours a day. Troopers will utilize radar, vascar, aircraft, marked and unmarked patrol cars in an enforcement effort to make the highways safe to travel.

Operation Round-Robin will be in effect during peak traffic hours. Scott said this operation places State Police units at regular intervals, driving at safe legal speeds for existing conditions. Scott said that it is imperative that a smooth and continuous flow of traffic be maintained, and that Operation Round-Robin hopefully will speed up the slow driver and restrain the speedster.

Troopers will also be alert for any actions on the part of motorists that possibly indicates the use of alcohol. Scott said that during the first four months of 1970, alcohol related collisions claimed 64 lives, which represented at least 40 per cent

Hope for Showers in State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Weather Bureau said that some relief of the hot and dry conditions in Arkansas may be in sight.

A high pressure ridge, which has been entrenched over the South for more than a week, has begun to show signs of weakening, the bureau said.

As the high pressure weakens, a stationary front in the Midwest could move into the Arkansas area triggering showers within the next two or three days, the bureau said.

More of the same type of hot and dry weather is forecast through Tuesday, the bureau said.

Highs Sunday ranged from 85 at Fayetteville and Harrison to 94 at Jonesboro.

Overnight lows included 58 at Fayetteville, 66 at Harrison, 69 at Jonesboro, 67 at Pine Bluff, 70 at Memphis, 67 at Little Rock, 64 at Fort Smith and 68 at El Dorado.

Israeli's Tanks Roll Into Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — An Israeli armored force, backed by an aerial and artillery barrage, launched an attack today across the southern Lebanese frontier near the town of Bint Jbeil, a Lebanese military spokesman reported.

Lebanese tanks engaged the Israeli forces north of the village of Yaroun, just inside the frontier, and clashes were continuing, said a communique.

Bint Jbeil is in the central sector of the frontier, about 18 miles from the Mediterranean. Together with three nearby villages, it was blasted by Israeli artillery last Friday as a reprisal for the Arab guerrilla ambush of an Israeli school bus which killed eight children and three adults.

Twenty Lebanese were killed and 40 wounded in Friday's bombardment and several thousand civilians fled the area.

The Lebanese communique reported today's attack began at 12:45 p.m., and termed it a "new aggression against Lebanon."

Radio programs were interrupted to broadcast news of the Israeli assault.

It is the second ground attack on southern Lebanon within two weeks. Israeli tanks stabbed into the southeastern corner of Lebanon May 12 in a bid to smash a network of guerrilla bases in the area. They remained 36 hours before pulling back over the border.

Today's reprisal has been widely predicted following the bus ambush.

In Tel Aviv, an Israeli military spokesman said he had no immediate official statement to make on Lebanon's announcement that its territory was attacked by an Israeli armored force.

Israeli newspapers are demanding that the army carve out a "security belt" in southern Lebanon and keep Arab guerrillas away from Israeli settlements.

The idea of a security belt has been mentioned by military men here since the Lebanese-Israeli border started heating up more than a year ago.

Lebanese villagers are reported fleeing this area in fear of Israeli reprisals and the newspaper Maariv said that if the Arab guerrillas abandoned the area entirely the army would be able to fight the guerrillas freely and keep them away from Israeli settlements.

The newspapers compared this possibility to the zone Israel created on Jordan's side of the Jordan River. An area several miles deep there has become a deserted no-man's land as a result of Israeli for guerrilla attacks.

3 Die in Week-End Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Three persons were killed in traffic accidents on Arkansas highways over the weekend. Each of the fatalities occurred Saturday.

Roger Connell, 9, of Arkadelphia was killed in a collision between a jeep in which he was riding and a tractor-trailer truck.

State Police said the Jeep was struck in the rear by the truck at the Caddo Valley-Arkadelphia exit on Interstate 30.

William C. Allen, 17, of Hardy was killed when his motorcycle hit a car head-on on the shoulder of Arkansas 9 about 10 miles south of Salem.

Hattie Elkins, 24, of Forrest City died in a two-car crash on U.S. 70 at Forrest City. Police said she was a passenger in a car driven by James Shaw, 23, of Pontiac, Mich., that collided head-on with another auto. Five persons were injured.

PERSONAL FINANCE

Next to the stock tables, some of the gloomiest reading these days is being published by an agency in Washington known as the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

The FHLBB spends most of its time regulating the savings and loan industry, but periodically it also assays the state of the housing business and publishes its findings.

As we said, it makes for gloomy reading.

In a recent survey of mortgage interest rates, for example, it found that on existing homes, lending rates range from a low of 7.56 per cent in New York to a high of 9.72 in Memphis.

Other cities nudging Memphis for top honors were Denver (9.39), Los Angeles (9.31), Miami (9.03) and Dallas (9.02).

As if to compound the gloom, the FHLBB also checked on what has been happening to prices on existing homes in the past two years. Needless to say, they had gone up.

Up 39 per cent in Atlanta, up 36 per cent in Minneapolis, up 24 per cent in Dallas, and up 20 per cent in Seattle.

If you're like many Americans, such figures appear to foreclose all possibility of a new home. But if you can't afford another home at these rates and prices, there are still a few things you can do besides gnash your teeth. For instance:

Remodel—If you can't buy a new home, perhaps you can make the one you now have better. Bedrooms can be added. So can baths. Kitchens can be improved. Rooms can be enlarged. Basements, attics and garages can be converted to other purposes.

BOATING ENTHUSIASTS who also are home handymen will find this piece of equipment to their liking. Called an "Allaboard," the device was developed by an American Red Cross official as a safety item. In addition to use as a gangplank, a stretcher and a float for tired swimmers, it can be tied alongside the boat as a ramp for entering or leaving the water, left: placed under the keel to help steady the boat in rough water, center; and used as a ladder, right. The Allaboard consists of a piece of three-quarter or one-inch exterior or marine plywood, measuring eight feet by 16 inches, and fiberglassed on one side and on rounded edges. Cleats should be placed about 15 inches apart. Hand or footholds should be approximately four inches wide and 1 1/2 inches in depth.

Jim: "The ethics of deceptive play at bridge are most unusual. You may play an unusual card in an effort to create a false impression as to the rest of your hand, but you aren't supposed to deceive with the manner in which you play a card."

Oswald: "On the other hand a player who takes advantage of an opponent's mannerism is supposed to do so at his own risk."

Jim: "That is within reason. If you lead a suit and an opponent studies carefully and then plays a card which turns out later to be a singleton you may get redress in a tournament. The director or the protest committee may feel that this improper hesitation has victimized you."

Oswald: "Here is one that did appear before a protest committee at a national championship. West was a top ranking player and naturally enough did not lead his ace of hearts against the spade slam. He was sure it would keep. South let the club jack run around to his king and quick as a flash led his four of hearts. West should have been ready for that play but he wasn't. He hesitated for a second."

Jim: "Didn't South call for dummy's king and make his slam?"

Oswald: "No, he didn't. West found a way out of his difficulty. He continued to hesitate. Then he pulled out a card, put it back, hesitated some more and finally played the nine. South started to do some thinking of his own. Finally he called for dummy's jack and lost his slam. South protested on the grounds that when West hesitated unduly he had done so with the intent of deceiving him."

Jim: "I don't suppose the committee gave South any redress."

Oswald: "No. They laughed SHORT RIBS

Competitive Sports Have Been Drawbacks

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

It is time again to look at Little League baseball from the health standpoint. Dr. N. J. Giannestras, a Cincinnati orthopedist, believes that organized baseball and football programs for children under 12 should be abolished and that such programs for those between 12 and 14 should be closely supervised because of the great risk of serious injury.

Competitive sports for young boys have spread across the nation but, far from preparing the players for a life of professional sport or even for greater physical fitness, all too often they result in permanent damage to a joint.

The greatest danger is to the elbow joints of pitchers, nearly all of whom wind up with a traumatic arthritis or loose fragments of cartilage in the joint space. In young football players similar damage occurs in the knees.

Since there is little likelihood of abolishing organized sports for the 8 to 14 age group, Dr. Giannestras recommends that no boy be allowed to pitch more than three innings in one day three times a week and that young pitchers be encouraged to develop speed and accuracy and not attempt to throw curves. Overemphasis on winning at all costs is the underlying cause of most injuries.

Habitual Criminal Act Upheld

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court upheld today the constitutionality of the state Habitual Criminal Statute in a case involving a 26-year sentence for a man convicted of a $50 theft.

Frank Dolphus Jr. appealed his grand larceny conviction at West Memphis and contended there were three grounds for reversing the conviction and sentence.

He contended the statute was unconstitutional because the penalty allowed under the law involved previous convictions. In effect, he was being punished a second time for earlier offenses, he contended.

Dolphus had been imprisoned in Oklahoma in 1952 for robbery, in Illinois for larceny in 1956 and in Michigan for attempted larceny in 1964.

Under the Habitual Criminal Act, Dolphus could have received a sentence of up to 31 years and six months.

The Supreme Court, in an opinion by Chief Justice Carleton Harris, cited a decision of the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals which said that an increased penalty because of a previous conviction is permissible.

The federal appeals court said such a penalty "is not a punishment for that (earlier) offense but simply a stiffened penalty for the latest crime which is considered to be an aggravated offense because (it is) a repetitive one."

Harris, without elaboration, said the court did not agree that the penalty constituted cruel and unusual punishment.

Dolphus also contended that there was not sufficient evidence to sustain the conviction.

He was convicted in Crittenden County Circuit Court in connection with the 1968 theft of $50 from a cash register at a grocery store operated in West Memphis by Mrs. Virginia Hammett.

Mrs. Hammett testified that Dolphus came into the store as its first customer of the day and, while she was away from the cash register apparently took 10 five dollar bills from the till.

No one saw Dolphus "put his hand in the cash register, but such proof was not necessary," the Supreme Court said. "We have held that participation in larceny may be shown by circumstances."

Youth Dies on His Solo Flight

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Sam Spry, a 19-year-old sophomore at Mesa College here, rented a plane May 13 and headed southeast into the California desert on his first long solo flight. He was found dead Sunday 20 miles from the downed aircraft.

Spry had radioed that he would be 20 minutes late in arriving at El Centro, 100 miles from San Diego. Then, officials said, he apparently ran into heavy fog and was blown southward off course.

Some 260 miles south of the Mexican border in Baja California, his single-engine plane ran out of gas. Spry set it down intact in a desolate area two miles from the coast.

On the plane he left a note reading, "All right and walking to the coast."

Searchers—up to 100 in the air, including his mother, Lori,

The two recipients of Rotary club scholarships of $250 each, Harriet Hickles, left, and Balinda Evans, were special guests of the Hope Rotary Club at its luncheon meeting last Friday at the Town and Country. Accompanied by Miss Juanita Nicholson at the piano, they sang "If Ever I Would Leave You" and "I'll Never Fall in Love Again."

Harriet plans to use her scholarship at Ouachita Baptist University, and Balinda will use hers at Southern State College, the Rotarians were told by Albert Graves, who was in charge of the program. After the musical presentations, there was a brief, informal discussion of the municipal water situation.

Benny Coleman presided over the business meeting and welcomed one visiting Rotarian, Jim Ligon of Conway, and two guests, David Moore and Clyde Fouse. A short board meeting was called after the members were dismissed.

of the State's traffic death toll during this period. He pointed out that unfortunately it is not always possible to obtain a blood analysis from victims or persons responsible for collisions.

We will do everything possible, Scott said, to assure everyone a safe holiday, but the final responsibility rests with the individual drivers.

In 1969, the same holiday period cost the lives of 7 persons. This year the official traffic count begins at 6:00 p.m., Friday May 29, and continues until midnight Sunday May 31. However, increased patrol activities by the State Police will begin Thursday afternoon, and continue through midnight Sunday night.

THE ARKANSAS STATE POLICE RELEASED TODAY THE STATISTICAL SUMMARY OF FATALITIES IN ACCIDENTS DURING APRIL 1970. THEY ARE AS FOLLOWS:

WHO WERE THEY?—Of the 34 victims, 28 were males, 6 females, 21 were drivers, 7 passengers, and 6 pedestrians. 65 per cent were under the age of 40.

HOW DID THEY DIE?—23 victims died on one-car collisions, 11 persons were killed in two-car accidents, 1 victim met death in a train-car accident.

WHERE DID THEY DIE?—There were 28 rural and 6 urban fatalities. Pulaski and Ouachita counties recorded 4 fatalities each. Jefferson and Mississippi 3 each. Craighead, Crawford, Washington 2 each. Those recording only one traffic death were: Lee, Yell, Lonoke, Clay, Independence, Jackson, Pope, Arkansas, Bradley, Chicot, Logan, Columbia, Montgomery and Sevier.

WHEN DID THEY DIE?—The deadliest day of the week was Wednesday which killed 9 persons. 7 met death on Thursday, 6 on Friday and Saturday each and 5 on Sunday and 1 on Monday. There were no fatalities on Tuesday.

WHAT CAUSED THEIR DEATH?—Speed too fast for conditions contributed to the deaths of 16 persons. Driving left of the center line and inattention claimed 7 lives each. Improper passing killed 2 and driving the wrong way on the Interstate killed 1 person. A total of 9 persons were killed in alcohol-related collisions; 26 per cent of total killed for the month. During the first 4 months of 1970 there were 161 traffic fatalities. 64 of these deaths were alcohol-related, representing 40 per cent of the total.

scoured the brown hills. A few days later they found the plane.

Searchers on the ground found Spry's body on a plateau 20 miles from the downed plane and 10 miles inland. He had been dead two or three days, they estimated.

Playing cards have been taxed in the United States since 1894, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Demonstrator Uniform Irrelevant

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court decided today it is not illegal for a person participating in a street skit critical of the war in Vietnam to wear parts of an Army uniform.

Actors, the court said in a unanimous 8-0 opinion, have a right to wear the uniform or parts of it in a theatrical performance, and also have the constitutional right of free speech, including the right to criticize the government.

To hold otherwise, the high court said, would mean that an actor, under such circumstances would be free to praise the war in Vietnam but could be sent to prison for opposing it.

The high court reversed the conviction in federal court in Houston, Tex., of Daniel Jay Schacht on a charge he violated a law prohibiting civilians from wearing the uniform or parts of it without specific permission.

In other actions today, the court: —Upheld, in a Philadelphia case, the authority of urban officials to prohibit groups of people from assembling on city streets in times of emergency.

—Strengthened the right to a speedy trial by throwing out the robbery conviction of a Florida truck driver who was not tried until eight years after he had been arrested.

—Acted to promote in action of small picnic parks and local "swimming holes" by refusing to hear a private Virginia operator who is under orders to admit Negroes.

In the street skit case, Schacht's defense was that he was authorized to wear the uniform under another law permitting civilians to wear a uniform in a theatrical production providing the portrayal doesn't tend to discredit the armed forces.

In the skit presented several times during an anti-Vietnam demonstration, Schacht shot red ink at another demonstrator portraying a Viet Cong who then fell down. Then Schacht and another actor walked up and said, "My God, this is a pregnant woman."

To a government contention that this was not a theatrical production, the court said that theatrical productions need not necessarily be performed in buildings or on a stage, nor need they be performed by professional actors nor be elaborately produced.

"It may be that the performances were crude and amateurish and perhaps unappealing, but such can be said about many theatrical performances," said the court's opinion written by Justice Hugo L. Black.

Black said the court could not believe that Congress, in writing a special exception for theatrical productions, intended to protect only a limited category of professionally produced plays.
